Subject: City of Maywood's Notice of 60-Day Conferring Period for Potential Compliance Enforcement

Dear Mayor Magana:

On March 15, 2013, the Department of Resources Recycling and Recovery (CalRecycle) sent a letter (see attached) to your designated Recycling Coordinator, Andre Dupret, stating that the 2007-2011 Jurisdiction Review had determined that an independent review of the waste diversion programs of the City of Maywood (City) is necessary. This letter listed specific areas of concern relating to the waste diversion programs of the City. The letter also explained that this independent review will be conducted by CalRecycle's Jurisdiction and Product Compliance Unit (JPCU) in the Waste Permitting, Compliance & Mitigation Division.

The purpose of JPCU's independent review is to determine whether the City has complied with the diversion requirements of Public Resources Code (PRC) Section 41780. If JPCU finds that the City has not satisfied these requirements, CalRecycle will begin the process of considering whether issuance of a compliance order would be appropriate. Jurisdictions that fail to satisfy the conditions of a compliance order could be subject to a fine of up to $10,000 per day.

This letter initiates the 60-day conferring period required by PRC Section 41825(c). The 60-day conferring period allows both the City and JPCU an opportunity to discuss all waste diversion efforts taking place. Through the conferring period a review of all of the City's efforts to implement waste diversion programs in addition to a review of the materials being disposed will be conducted. This review will include field evaluations of all diversion programs and the facilities processing both recyclables and disposed waste. The conferring period may last longer than 60 days; however, it must be completed prior to beginning the process to consider the issuance of a compliance order.

60-Day Conferring Letter

A member of JPCU will be contacting Mr. Dupret, to arrange for an initial meeting. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Kathleen Marsh, JPCU Supervisor, at (916) 341-6475.

Sincerely,
