Hi Cynthia,

Nice job this morning.

I wanted to restate my question/ comment more clearly.

CalRecycle will be requiring reporting from various entities many of whom use the term recycling.

It would seem appropriate for these entities that do recycle mattresses to report into what products the recycled material goes.

With that information, plans can be made and implemented to help establish and grow those markets for the end products, in order to fuel the continued recycling process.

Lessons learned from previous programs that paid little attention to establishing and growing markets for the recycled content products until later in the cycle.

Hope this helps the effort.
