

Video: Hilton San Diego Bayfront—Reducing Waste While Helping Others...It Starts With Me! (1:25 minutes)

Woman and Man's Voice: "At the Hilton San Diego Bayfront pollution prevention starts with me".

Soft background music starts.

This portion of the video shows how the hotel handles food waste.

Woman's Voice: "One of our award winning practices at our hotel is food composting. We compost all of our left over food from our restaurants, banquets, and employee cafeteria. We have special trash bins which left over food is discarded into. From there it is taken to a compost dumpster outside our hotel. Every week the dumpster is picked up by Allied Waste and taken to a Miramar landfill called The Greenery".

Woman's Voice: "Along with composting we also have untouched food that is safe and healthy. We donate these items to a local organization called Embrace. This organization collects food weekly to distribute to the homeless in San Diego".

This portion of the video shows how the hotel collects unused bath products.

Man's Voice: "With all of the bath products that our guests use while staying in our hotel, we don't throw out the remaining shampoo and conditioner. Our housekeepers collect the bottles and put them in a box. When these boxes fill up we donate them to Lily of the Valley Orphanage. Through this process we conserve thousands of bath supplies a year".

Woman, Woman, and Man's Voice: It starts with me, It starts with me, It starts with me.

The Hilton logo transitions onto slide.
