NOTICE

April 27, 2006

TO: Potential Applicants and Operators of Recycling Centers and Processing Facilities

SUBJECT: A Service Provided for Recycling Center Applicants

The law that governs the California Beverage Container Recycling program requires the Division of Recycling consider the 5-year history of any address or location being considered for certification.

If you are going to submit a certification application to operate a recycling center or processing facility, we encourage you to call our Certification Section to find out if there is a history of non-compliance at the location you are considering.

In an effort to assist our applicants choose a site with the best potential for approval, we can review the history of the address with you before you submit your application.

However, please bear in mind that each application must be considered on its own merits. We cannot predict if an application will, or will not, be approved prior to completing the application review process, even if there is no previous site history.

If you have any questions, please contact the Certification Section at (916) 324-8598.

Sincerely,

Dana Stone
Acting Assistant Director for Recycling
